From the Desk of the Minister

Collect: Almighty and Merciful God, it is only by your gift that your faithful people offer you true and laudable service. Grant that we may run without stumbling to obtain your heavenly promises; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God now and forever. Amen.

Leaders should be role model

We learned that Moses saw the land but did not complete the task. God has chosen a new leader to take the people to the promise Land. Joshua was inspired by God to be the next leader of the Israelites. He said to Joshua, "Today I will begin to exalt you in the eyes of all Israel, so they may know that I am with you as I was with Moses." Joshua's instruction comes from the Lord and then conveyed it to the people. No wonder why they were successful in their crossing because of their obedience to the leader. Joshua stood and waited until all his people had safely passed through the space between the waters of the Jordan. In our reading from the gospel for today, Jesus is not impressed with the religious leaders of his day. They speak well about the faith, but they don't lead by examples. It was a case of high talk and low walk. Jesus warned his audience, not to do what they are doing. The Pharisees went through all the religious observances just to be seen by people, but not from inward sincerity. Just imagine leaders who just do that. They are not real leaders. We want leaders who risk their life for the sake of the followers. Jesus was the role model of all leaders. Jesus is reminding us that he who is greatest among you shall be your servants. And whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.

True greatness stoops to serve. True disciples who humble themselves will be exalted in due time. We have arrived at the first Sunday of the eleventh month with a reminder: we should be the examples of the Christian Community to the outside world. Our way of life matches our beliefs in Jesus Christ our leader and role model.

Proverbs for Daily Living

““It is better to lead from behind and to put others in front, especially when you celebrate victory when nice things occur. You take the front line when there is danger. Then people will appreciate your leadership..”

Nelson Mandela

“The first responsibility of a leader is to define reality. The last is to say thank you. In between, the leader is a servant.”
